

NOTRE DAME DE LA SERRA

By JCRR

Start of runway construction: November 2020. End: October 2022

This legendary special has been used many times in several rallies since the 1970s: Tour de Corse, Balagne rally, historic Tour de Corse.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION:

There are still known defects but without solution for the moment:

Trees have flaws with shadows. I chose shaders that allow the shrubs not to glow when in shade and not to glow unrealistically at night. But as a result, the shadows, depending on the hours are not always well managed. It's a compromise

Telephone lines sometimes take very fanciful shapes! I will cover them entirely in a future update.

Of course, I added bumps all over the place, like in real life... But what bothers me is that with some cars you don't really feel them: Toyota Celica, while with others it's almost too (BMW M3). You can surely adjust the suspensions to have a good feeling...

The track is very long and very detailed. The textures are all real and different every 30m. The vegetation is very varied and conforms to that of the Corsican maquis (homemade creations). Each vegetation was placed one by one, oriented, scaled with the actual images as a model. Also the track is very heavy but sometimes I happen to download a single 1gb auto mod... so... Don't worry: even with my old 12-year-old I3 PC, the track was running well with some AI... With the new one, I'm close to 337 FPS (before automatically limiting it to 75...)

There are 20 places in the "stands" (pits). If more is needed for an online race, it's easy to achieve. You can race against AI's. It works great on all versions.

You can also drive at night even if I did not find any historical trace of this fact... There are lights in the hamlets, the maritime lighthouse and the distant towns.

Notice to modelers or related:

Please don't damage this track by putting CSP automatic weeds everywhere without even looking at an image of the real road...

For the rain, I don't have the Patreon version, your contributions will be appreciated.

Soon I will provide a "Regional Rally of Balagne" version With 5 stages spread over the 30 km available.

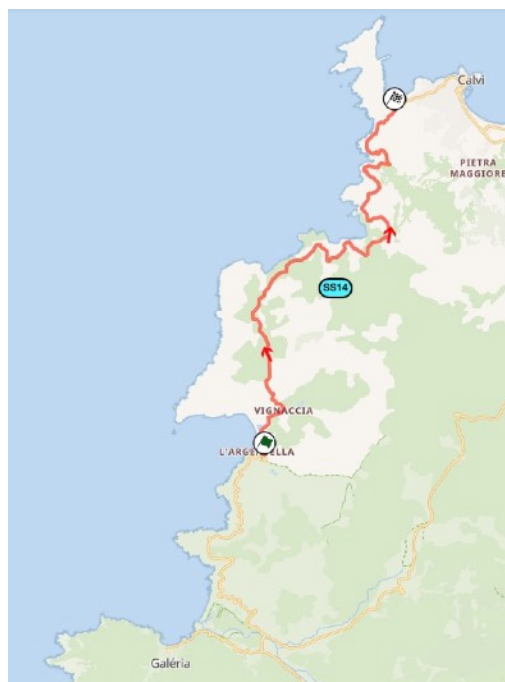

Advice :

To beginning : drive very slowly... and start with Tour de Corse 1985 at 8:15 a.m.!
Then use Co-driver.. the notes are available with a Corsican-accented co-driver!

I therefore initially propose 3 different versions :

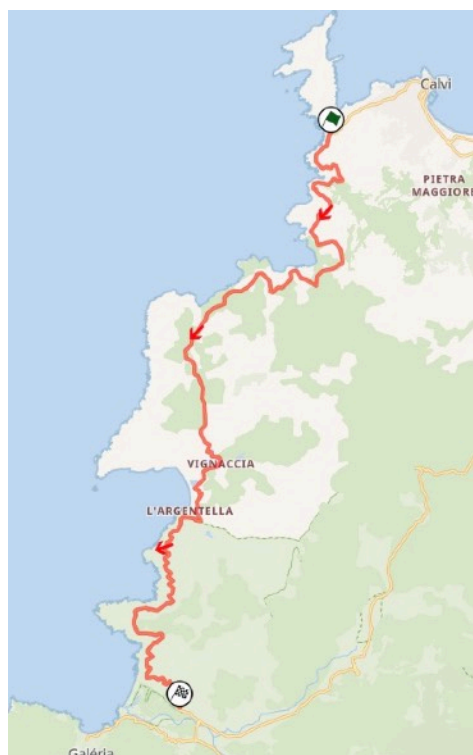

Tour de Corse 2019 (19,3 km)

(The last "Power Stage" of the last edition of the Tour de Corse in the world championship, we hope not the last in history)

Tour de Corse 1985 (reverse) (28,7 km)

At that time of the fabulous GrB, the special was disputed from Calvi to Galéria. As often around Historical Corsica.

Rallye de Balagne 2019 (28,7 km)

How lucky to be able to ride in such landscapes!
